Claims 1-67 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The term "bob syrup" is not adequately defined in the specification. Applicant refers to the Handbook of Sugars for the meaning of bob syrup but examiner cannot find this term in the USPTO copy of the Handbook. A brief review of the patents that use "bob syrup" does not show that there is a consistent bob syrup product or a consistent method of making bob syrup. The reference to Graff (5,879,728) shows one bob syrup formulation at column 5, lines 10-22; but the reference to Bunick (2003/0017202) shows a different formulation at page 6, column 2, paragraph 64-65. Thus it is unclear what specific syrup is being used in this process. If there is a specific formulation of bob syrup in the Handbook of Sugars that applicant intends to use, then the reference should be provided.

Claims 68-69 are allowed.
